

Title of the Research Report

Abstract

[A brief summary of the research question, methods, main findings, and conclusion. Usually 150-250 words.]

Introduction

[Background of the topic, importance, objectives, and hypothesis or research questions.]

Literature Review

[Summarize existing research, highlight gaps the study addresses.]

Methods

[Describe the research design, materials, procedures, and analysis methods used.]

- Participants/Sample
- Materials
- Procedure
- Data Analysis

Results

[Present the findings, using tables or figures if needed.]

Discussion

[Interpret the results, discuss implications, limitations, and possible future research.]

Conclusion

[Summarize main findings and their significance.]

References

[List all the sources cited in the report. Use a consistent referencing style.]

Appendices

[Include additional material such as raw data, questionnaires, or supplementary figures, if any.]